
unexpected T_STRING in config/config.php

Posted by dragon - 2007/10/31 05:51

I'm trying to get this module to work for my Joomla test site, but no matter what I do, I get this error:

Parse error: syntax error, unexpected T_STRING in http://wharfedalefestival.co.uk/joomla/phplist/config/config.php on line 1

Which puzzles me as line one is going no further.

One problem I have found is that I get a phpperror in my server error log that points me to jlord_phplistsubscriber_underground.php and line 84 which has a different end path to where my phplist is installed.

Any suggestions please?

That's weird, that's not exactly what I posted.

I said that line one only has 4 is at fault, but line 82 has an incorrect path to my phplist install. Altered that, but no difference I'm afraid.

Any ideas please?

And that's not what I said either!

Figured it out! I was using absolute URL in the Module and Component.

Seems that I should have been using the full home/me/public_html/etc/lists option.

Still think I had to change the line that specified the wrong path in the module php file.
